

Darryl Takizo Yagi

Darryl Yagi was an appointed university professor in the Professional Graduate School of Education and a visiting researcher at the Center for School Education Research at Hyogo University of Teacher Education in Japan.

His area of expertise is in counseling and guidance, career education and counseling, and cultural diversity and multicultural counseling.

As a school counselor in the public schools and adjunct in counselor education at a state university in the United States, he was also the American School Counselor Association and American Counseling Association Human Rights Chairperson. He has done research and lectured in Southeast Asia and published in the United States and Japan.