

Francis Danvers

Francis Danvers is a university professor. Educational psychologist and research professor at the Laboratoire CIREL (EA PROFEOR 4354), a research centre in educational science, Université Lille Nord de France [2000-].

Director of the professional master's programme, Master 2 Pro, "Métiers de l'éducation pour la Santé, de la prévention et de la promotion de la Santé", a master's level programme for professionals of public health education, prevention and health promotion [2009-].

Associate Director of "L'orientation scolaire et professionnelle", a specialized journal in vocational and educational guidance, INETOP-CNAM Paris.

Member of the Collège régional de prospective Nord Pas-de-Calais and of the Science Council of Po Lille and the Presses universitaires du Septentrion. Vice-President of l'Université Populaire de Lille and of "l'Association apprendre et s'orienter" in Montpellier, an association promoting a guidance-oriented approach to learning.

Member of the national scientific steering committee for PEC, a portfolio of experience and competencies for university students and a member of the Administrative Council of the CUIP, a university educational information committee.

Honorary member of the Conférence des directeurs et responsable de l'orientation et de l'insertion professionnelle dans les universités, a Conference of directors and managers of career counselling and employment services in universities [Director of the SCUIO-IP L3, a university career and job placement centre, 2000-2009].